

Loyola's Memorial To Service Alumni

Our Lady's Chapel Of Evergreen

In living memory of her 1200 sons who served in World War II and of the twenty-eight who paid the supreme sacrifice in that conflict, Loyola College plans to erect a Chapel—'Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen'.

Situated on the campus of Evergreen, on the knoll overlooking the intersection of Charles Street and Cold Spring Lane, this Chapel will be, in the words of the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., President of Loyola College and Chairman of the Chapel Committee, 'a Memorial that will honor the departed and those returning by rendering active service to Loyola's future sons, adding, through the presence of the Life within, to the life and consciousness of the community'.

Chapel Announced At Banquet

Fr. Bunn made formal announcement of the College's campaign for contributions after the final plans for the construction of the edifice had been laid. He chose the Alumni Association's annual Banquet on February 21 as the suitable occasion.

"During the war," he explained, "nothing was sacrificed at Loyola. The school kept going with ever dwindling student bodies. It gave to its country more boys and more commissioned officers than any other small college in the country. To commemorate all those boys who served, Loyola will erect this Chapel to Our Lady".

Alumni, Friends Urged: "Build!"

"I would like to have this Chapel built by every member of the Association, by the families and friends of those boys who served and those who died," he told the Alumni. "We want each Alumnus to be interested. We want all our Alumni and friends to make themselves the builders of this Chapel."

Loyola Debaters To Hold Series Of Four Tests

Three intercollegiate debates and one exhibition debate have been scheduled by the Bellarmine Debating Society for its March agenda.

For the first of the collegiate debates, the rhetoricians will journey to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis; the other two college teams, those of Boston University and the Pennsylvania State Women's College, will be engaged in the Library of Loyola. The exhibition debate will be given before the dramatic society of St. James' Parish next Friday night, March 15, at 8:00 p. m.

Argue Peacetime Conscription

The Quarterdeck Society of the Naval Academy has chosen the Affirmative side of the topic, "Resolved: That the United States should adopt universal military training" (Continued on page 2, col. 3)

Actors Pick Werfel Play

"Jacobowsky and the Colonel", one of the Theatre Guild's modern comedies, will be the major presentation of the Masque and Rapier Dramatic Society for 1946.

The exact date of the play has not yet been determined but Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., Moderator of the Society, is making efforts to hold the play during the first available week after Easter.

Written By Franz Werfel

The late Franz Werfel, author of "The Song of Bernadette" and the new posthumous novel, "A Star Unborn", wrote the play in collaboration with S. N. Behrman.

Mr. Driscoll stated that casting would start next week.

Two Years On Broadway

"Jacobowsky and the Colonel" played for two years on Broadway and on tour. "Even though it was a great success on Broadway and played to packed houses during the week it played here in Baltimore," said Mr. Driscoll, "the success of our presentation depends very much upon good publicity and business staffs, as well as on the cast".

E. Paul Coffay is President of the Society. Robert E. Hiltz has been appointed Publicity Manager and Mannes F. Greenberg, Business Manager.

Mr. Dawkins To Describe 'Rockets' Before Math Club

Mr. Walter A. Dawkins, Instructor in Statistics and Elementary and Advanced Mathematics, will be the next speaker in the Mathematics Club's series of student-professor lectures. Mr. Dawkins has chosen "The Mathematical Principles Underlying Rocket Power" for his lecture on March 20.

School Enrollment Now Numbers 288

Total enrollment at Loyola College is 288 students, according to final registration figures revealed by the Rev. Joseph A. d'Invilliers, S. J., Dean of Studies.

Of this total, 159 are veterans being educated under the Servicemen's Readjustment of 1944.

Lalley Succeeds Hiltz As Editor, Seniors Receive Greyhound Pins

Retiring Editor

Thomas L. Lalley was appointed new Editor-in-Chief of THE GREYHOUND at the annual Greyhound Banquet held last night at the Stafford Hotel. He succeeds Robert E. Hiltz in that position.

"To Insure Fine Issues"

The change in the editorship at this time brings back a former, pre-war policy of changing editors in the middle of the year. Lalley's tenure extends till January, 1947.

"Under this system, which was followed from 1928 till 1942, there will always be a number of experienced ex-editors in school to train the incoming staff. This will insure a steady flow of fine issues of the paper," explained Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., Moderator of the publication.

Lalley's Father Is Speaker

Guest speaker for the occasion was Mr. Joseph M. Lalley, literary editor and editorial writer for The Washington Post, foremost publication in the Capitol city.

Robert E. Hiltz, retiring Editor-in-Chief, was toastmaster.

Greyhound Awards Given

Gold Greyhound pins were presented to the following staff members, all seniors, who are completing their work on the paper: Robert

Robert E. Hiltz

E. Hiltz, E. Paul Coffay, Jr., Charles J. Schmidt, George L. Bardelman, Fred Hubbell and Joseph B. Bronushas.

To six undergraduate staff members who "evidenced greater interest in editing the issues" special Greyhound Awards were given. The six are: Thomas L. Lalley, Edward C. Barrett, Mannes F. Greenberg, Richard E. Rebbert, John G. Arthur and Francis J. Griffin.

Honor Fraternity Inducts Four Members April 14

Three members of the junior class and one student of the advanced sophomore class are to be received into Loyola's Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Nu, National Jesuit Honor Fraternity, at the induction ceremonies on Sunday, April 14, in the Faculty Residence at 4 p. m.

This brings to fifty-nine the total number of students received into ASN since its foundation at Loyola six years ago.

All Four Are Presidents

Those nominated for membership are: William W. Cahill, Jr., Gus A. Crenson, Mannes F. Greenberg and Thomas L. Lalley.

Cahill is president of the Junior class, Crenson holds the office of Chairman of the International Relations Club, Greenberg heads the newly organized Accounting Academy and Lalley holds the presidential chair in the Debating Society.

Candidates Active

All of the ASN candidates hold editorial positions on THE GREYHOUND Staff; all but Cahill are members of the IRC.

Lalley and Cahill are members of the Sodality, the latter being also a guard on the Green and Gray basketball squad. Lalley is Junior Representative from Loyola to the NFCCS.

Greenberg Reactivates Accounting

Earlier this year, Greenberg proposed to reorganize the Accounting Academy, a society that was inactive during the war. He received official approval, and after interesting other accounting students, was elected president of that club.

Scholarship, Loyalty, Service

Candidates were selected according to the standards of outstanding Scholarship, Loyalty and Service to the College. They will receive their gold fraternity keys and membership certificates at the secret induction ceremony.

Fr. Walsh Continues Lectures On Dante

Continuing his series of spring lectures, the Rev. Gerald G. Walsh, S. J., will deliver his second on "Dante and the Problem of Political Peace" this Sunday, March 10, in the Library of Loyola College at 4 p. m.

To conclude the series of six lectures, Dr. Charles C. Tansill, of Georgetown University, will speak on "The Rise of Anglo-American Friendship", "Russian-American Relations Since 1900" and "A Foreign Policy for Today". The dates of Dr. Tansill's series are March 22 and 29, and April 5.

Rev. Paul Gouch Speaks Before Sodality Union

"Political Duties of an Educated Catholic" will be the major topic of discussion at the next meeting of the College Sodality Union of Baltimore on Monday, March 18 at Johns Hopkins University.

Father Gouch Speaks

Principal speaker will be the Rev. Paul F. Gouch, P.P., Moderator of the Newman Clubs of Johns Hopkins and Goucher College. Fr. Gouch is now pursuing graduate studies at Hopkins in the field of political science.

Various committees of the Union, reactivated last year, will report at the meeting upon whatever progress they have made.

Committee Heads Named

Committee Chairmen are: Mary Grace Wells, of Mt. St. Agnes, the Eucharistic Committee; Maureen Kunkel, of Notre Dame, Our Lady's Committee; and Joseph B. Bronushas, Social Committee; Thomas L. Lalley, Apostolic and Robert E. Hiltz, Publicity; the last three from Loyola.

In addition, a committee to revise the Charter of the Union, was formed under E. Paul Coffay, Union treasurer, and this body will present its final report next Monday.

Consultors Appointed

The Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S. J., Sodality Moderator, conducted a brief meeting of the Executive Committee last Monday and appointed consultors from each class.

Consultors from Loyola are: Joseph B. Bronushas, senior class; Edwin F. Hawkins, junior class; George Buchness and Vincent McGuinness, sophomore classes.

Loyola's current project is the collection of Peter's Pence.

Shea Academy Outlines Plans

In a midterm meeting last week the John Gilmary Shea History Academy surveyed the work that had been done on its project since its reorganization late last year. The Academy is compiling the history of Loyola College.

Eleven Years Completed

It was revealed that the names of all students who attended the College between 1853 and 1864 had been catalogued on filing cards preparatory to the members' actual research at the Maryland Historical Society.

Dr. Edward A. Doehler, Moderator of the Academy, outlined a program which would call for the cataloguing by the beginning of the Spring Term of the names of all students who were enrolled in the College between 1853 and 1900.

Membership Limited

Membership in the History Academy is open only to those who are interested in the project and have signified their intention of completing a specified amount of work each week.

At present there are only five members of the Academy. Membership has been restricted to twelve and all applications should be filed with Dr. Doehler immediately.

Maryland Educators Begin Radio Broadcasts April 6

First in a series of weekly radio broadcasts sponsored by Loyola College and presenting the Maryland Educational Conference on Postwar Organization will go on the air over Station WBAL on Saturday evening, April 6, from 7:00 to 7:30 p. m.

"Six broadcasts comprise the first series this year. Programs consist of round table discussions of the major problems in the Educational field of the post-war years," explained the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., President of Loyola College and Chairman of the Conference.

Pullen, Weglein Speak

Dr. David E. Weglein, local City Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Education, and Father Bunn are listed as speakers on the first broadcast. Topic to be treated

Chairman

Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J.

on the April 6 program is "The Need of Education in the Postwar World".

Topics Listed

Succeeding subjects under discussion will be: "The G. I. and His Relation to The College", "Advice-ment of the Veterans on Education", "Is College Training Necessary", "Training for Good Citizens" and "Compulsory Universal Military Training and Its Relations to Education".

Speakers on all programs will be members of the Conference who are important educators in the State of Maryland.

Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., is acting as coordinator of the series and will participate in all the programs as Moderator of the Discussion.

Five Novena Services Held In Loyola Chapel

Five services are being held daily in the College Chapel during the nine days of the annual Novena of Grace in honor of St. Francis Xavier, March 4 to 12.

The prayers of the Novena are recited after the 7:00 and 8:00 a. m. Masses as well as at 12:30 during the students' lunch hour. In addition, there is recitation of the Novena prayers and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament at 4:00 and 7:45 p. m.

The 7:45 service has been timed so as to allow students in the Night School to make the Novena.

Council Committee Checks Membership

To enkindle interest among prospective members of extra-curricular activities, the Student Council of Loyola College has appointed a Membership Committee headed by Robert E. Hiltz, Chairman.

At the suggestion of the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S. J., President of Loyola College, the committee was appointed at the nineteenth meeting of the Council by President Edward M. Rehak.

Two purposes have been outlined for the committee. The first is to work out suitable schedules for the club meetings, since at present there are frequent conflicts over this matter.

Secondly, the Committee is to make a careful check of all bona fide activity members, and from these surveys determine the need of possible membership campaigns.

Assisting Mr. Hiltz on the Committee are Charles J. Schmidt and Mannes F. Greenberg.

as a permanent peacetime policy". James F. Hicks and Thomas L. Lalley, Bellarmine president, will uphold the Negative. This debate will take place on Friday, March 15, at the Naval Academy.

Peacetime selective service will again be discussed when Boston University's team invades the campus for the debate on Wed., March 20, at 4:00 p. m. The visitors will defend the Affirmative. Both Hicks and Lalley will once more speak for Loyola.

Oregon Style Debate

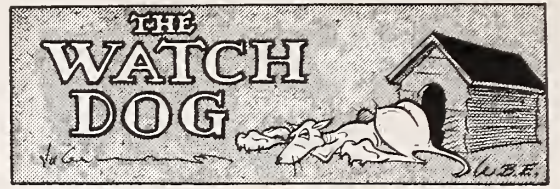

On Wednesday, March 27, the Women's Team from Penn State will speak for the Negative in the discussion on the proposition, "Resolved: That the foreign policy of the United States should be directed toward the gradual establishment of free trade among the nations of world". Dudley M. Shoemaker and J. Allen Panuska will be the speakers for Loyola.

This debate with Penn State will feature the little known Oregon style of debate. Instead of the customary four main speeches immediately followed by four rebuttals, there will be two main speeches of fifteen minutes followed by two ten minute cross-examination periods for each side. The debate is concluded in two extemporaneous summaries.

A. Richard Bird and Thomas L. Lalley will be the Affirmative speakers in the exhibition debate before St. James' Parish and J. Allan Panuska and James F. Hicks will defend the Negative.

The Best Cook In The World? Why Meet Mrs. Tippet, Son!

by George Bardelman

"No, I haven't got any free samples . . .

"And I'm not goin' to let you have that coke without a deposit . . .

"Now, don't get yourself in an uproar. I only have two hands . . ."

These are some of the familiar expressions one might hear any week-day in the Loyola College cafeteria.

Of course, we are quoting Mrs. Louise Tippet, quartermistress of the cafeteria.

At Loyola Three Years

The only drawback the students find in Mrs. Tippet is that she has only two hands. Despite this handicap, she is very careful in caring for the nutritional needs of the students. In fact, she has been feeding Loyola College men for three years.

"When did you first come to Loyola?" I inquired.

"It was back in October, 1943 when I first started to work here," she replied as she sold the last piece of pie. "Before I came, Lawrence Schmidt, one of the students, operated the cafeteria under Father Jacobs (the Rev. John M. Jacobs, S. J., former Treasurer at Loyola)."

Likes Work

Asked whether she liked working at Loyola and if the work was any different now than it was before, she answered, after a pause, "Well, it was about the same I guess, except that I didn't have to make the sandwiches then. They came already made from some company. After awhile I began to make the sandwiches every day. The rest is about the same . . . I like the work, too."

After further questioning, I found that Mrs. Tib's three years here were continuous. "Of course you did not work at Loyola during the Summer?" I asked.

Worked At Hoshild's

"No, I was here until school ended in May and then I worked at Hoshild Kohn & Company," she answered.

"When did you return," I asked.

"Father Jacobs called me up in August and asked me if I liked my new job. I told him I did, except that I didn't like to work on Thursday nights. So next September I was back again. That's the way it happened."

Hasn't Missed Day

Evidence of the fact that Mrs. Tib has labored capably and efficiently in managing the cafeteria can be seen from the fact that for the past two years she has not missed a single day's work.

Mrs. Tippet's day begins at 8:30, just before the first class. During the first two periods she is busy making sandwiches, cooking soup, roasting hot dogs and slicing pies.

By the time the interpendium comes, she has everything ready to meet the rush. During this ten minute break period, she does the work of three people.

"Boys Respidious"

"Good heavens," she exclaimed when I mentioned this daily rush, "those boys certainly are respidious. They all want to get waited on at the same time. I don't know what they think I can do in ten minutes."

A lull after recess affords her a well deserved rest, but then comes the lunch period at 12:30. For the next fifty minutes the lunch counter is as crowded as Union Station and Mrs. Tib as busy as a bee in honey time.

During the remainder of the afternoon, Mrs. Tippet is occupied with washing dishes and cleaning up, but this does not end the day for her. There is yet the last class of hungry students and the late lab students who dash in just when Mrs. Tib has locked her cash box.

Born In Czechoslovakia

It was just as she was doing this that I put forward my final question.

"Were you born in Baltimore?"

"No, I was born in Czechoslovakia and came to America when I was two years old. But I've lived in Baltimore all my life."

Mrs. Tippet tucked the cashbox under her arm. Everything had been washed and put away. "Oh, Mrs. Tib, how about a rocky fudge cone?"

"I declare. Now there you go. I'll never get home today. You fellows are the worst I've ever seen. Just when I'm ready to go home."

But despite her protestations, there was a twinkle in her eye as she turned to dip the rocky fudge.

Representatives Of Loyola IRC Visit Lafayette

Four members of Loyola's International Relations Club will journey to Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., to take part in a model United Nations Assembly on March 28. The Loyola delegation will represent the Netherlands.

Gus A. Crenson, Chairman of the Club, Edward C. Barrett, Secretary, Mannes F. Greenberg and Thomas L. Lalley are the IRC members who will make the trip. Dr. Edward A. Doehler, Moderator, will accompany the group.

Three Day Discussion

Colleges from all the Northern seaboard states will attend the meeting which will convene for three days, March 28, 29 and 30. Most of the member nations of the actual United Nations Organization will be represented. Procedure will be patterned after that of the first General Assembly of the UNO held last January in London.

Discussion of the various topics will be supervised by four commissions: political, economic, legal and social. There will also be general assemblies of all the delegates.

To Treat Current Problems

Loyola's delegates will sit together at the General Assembly meetings but will represent the Netherlands individually in the four commissions. Mr. Crenson will be the representative on the Political Commission; Mr. Barrett on the Economic; Mr. Greenberg on the Legal; and Mr. Lalley on the Social.

These Commissions will discuss such currently vital topics as the jurisdiction of the Security Council, private and governmental loans, prevention of renewed Axis aggression and the treatment of displaced persons.

ASN Alumni Members To Finish Mapping Chapter Organization

George W. McManus, Jr.

To put the final touches on their plans for forming an Alumni Chapter of the Alpha Sigma Nu, National Jesuit Honor Fraternity, Alumni members of the Society will convene in the Recreation Room of the Gymnasium on Sunday evening, March 10, at 8 p. m.

Miller To Preside

Chairman of the Organizing Committee, George J. Miller, Jr., '43, has been chosen to preside over the meeting.

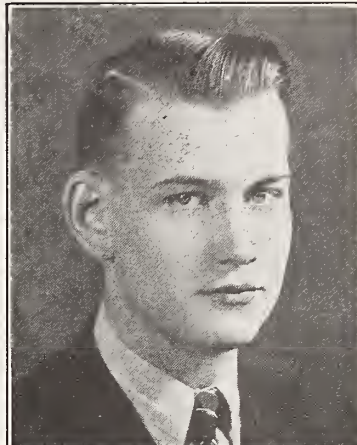

Main topic on the agenda is a report on the progress being made in obtaining the charter for the Alumni Chapter.

Approximately twenty members, some by proxy, signed the petition for the charter after the first meeting of the Alumni ASN members, but according to Mr. Miller, the members will have to wait for approval of their Charter from the Central Office of the ASN.

To Select New Members

In the meantime, the selection of other eligible members for the Alumni Chapter will be made at the March 10 session.

William A. Meyer, Jr., '45, chairman of the Membership Committee, will present data on Alumni from five classes prior to the foundation of the student chapter.

George J. Miller, Jr.

Twenty Eligible

Four members from each class will be picked according to the criterion of marks and activity records. All must fulfill the basic qualifications of Scholarship, Loyalty and Service.

The matter of determining the initiation fee and yearly dues will also be taken up at the meeting.

Fifteen fraternity members attended the first meeting of the ASN last October 11. Fifteen others, out of the total of fifty-two students thus far enrolled in the fraternity, manifested their interest in the formation of an Alumni Chapter, but indicated by mail their inability to attend the first gathering.

Four On Committee

In addition to Mr. Miller and Mr. Meyer, who are on the Organizing Committee, two other Alumni, George W. McManus, Jr., '43, and Donald J. Giblin, '45, are serving as temporary secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Memorial Chapel

It should not be erected by one man, but by us all. This is our job; we must carry on together."

To make the Chapel most appropriate, every feature of its construction and appointment is to symbolize those to whose memory it will be dedicated. "Our Chapel will be a living memorial. Everything in it will relate to the contribution, sacrifice and achievement of our Loyola boys in the war for the preservation of our free democratic society."

Shrines To Virgin Planned

The Chapel will be called "Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen", since all Loyola men were under her protection. Its sanctuary light will be illuminated from the perpetual votive flame that burns before the statue of Our Lady of Evergreen on the campus of Loyola.

In the chapel there is to be a shrine and a statue of Our Lady of Montserrat. It was before Our Lady's altar at Montserrat that St. Ignatius of Loyola laid his soldier's arms when taking up the cause of Christ. Here, too, Loyola's soldier sons will come and proffer their emblems of war, their stripes and bars, when the Chapel is finally completed.

Another shrine will be placed in the Chapel to "The Madonna of the Stars", a shrine with twenty-eight stars symbolizing those twenty-eight sons who form an eternal halo about Our Lady's brow.

Throughout the year a Mass will be said daily for those who laid down their lives in the War. Daily there will be celebrated a Mass for all Loyola men who served their country, and again, daily, the Holy Sacrifice will be offered for the donors of the Chapel, for those who have helped Loyola perpetuate the memory of her wartime Alumni and their glorious deeds.

Only Fitting Memorial

"Our Lady's Chapel must express the ideals of Loyola College. It must remind us that the patriotism these boys manifested, and the service and lives they nobly gave, show divinely inspired virtue, the cultivation of which is the goal of our teachings.

"These boys fought under the providence of God, and it is only befitting that our memorial should have the most direct relation with God Almighty. A temple for His worship, to which all can come to pay thanksgiving and where all may pray for the souls of our boys, is the only fitting memorial. Thus Loyola students of the future will ever be reminded of the names and also of the deeds of these men."

Executive Committee Organized

Organized in support of the campaign for funds to build the Chapel is the Executive Committee of the Alumni Assn.

Previously, on successive Sundays, meetings of the parents of the boys who were killed and of groups representing the other boys in Service were held in order that plans for the campaign might be explained, sub-committees established, and the general committee chosen.

Loyola Builds Men! "Men! Build Loyola!"

Concluded Fr. Bunn, in expounding the theme of Our Lady's Chapel of Evergreen, "For the past year, the business world has cried; 'Peace means rebuilding'. For Loyola this isn't true. Nothing she ever built has fallen. But peace does mean something big for her. It means that she will continue to build men!

"That she may do this, that she may fulfill the most stringent specifications (and these are spiritual) of this man-making for tomorrow, Loyola's postwar blueprints include this Memorial Chapel. A vital, visible memorial to her Boys, in which she will train future Sons. Their names will be forever hallowed in these stones, and more important, in the hearts and prayers of generations yet to come.

"This will be their Memorial!"

The Reader's Right Bill Rogers From Germany

January 31, 1946.
Erlangen,
Boyer, Germany.

The Editor of THE GREYHOUND,
Dear Bob,

I guess its about time I dropped you a line or so. Believe me, I've been on the go.

When I first came over, I was stationed near Munich at Furantengeldbruck. That was formerly the German West Point of the Air. Before the bombing, that is.

I am now a Lab Technician with the 8th Photo Technical Squadron. We are working on the Casey Jones Project—remapping Europe. There is a strong rumor that we will ship to Africa in a month or so. Another group has gone to Japan. Personally, I never realized Europe was so big.

The Field of Erlangen was formerly a headquarters for a Panzer division. Our barracks are really neat—three stories, stucco, concrete and brick, and steam heated. They are just about bomb proof. We have everything under one roof, mess hall, beds, rooms, game rooms, etc.

I saw a very small notice in STARS AND STRIPES that Loyola is in second place "in the small Mason-Dixon Conference." Keep it up. Why not send your scores into this paper, after all, Loyola men are still all over the world and want to know how the team is doing.

Give the boys my best for the other sports.

Sincerely yours,
Pvt. William C. Rogers, Jr., ex. '46.

Cpl. Ed Hart Writes

16 February, 1946

The Editor of THE GREYHOUND,
Dear Bob,

I think I told you that I have 42 points as of this date and so it won't be long before I find myself on orders. I can't wait till they come through. Just keep your fingers crossed for me, will you.

In a few weeks, if everything begins to calm down around here, I want to take off for a trip to Switzerland. It is quite a trip, but as long as I have to stay here for a few more months, I'm going to take in all the sights I can.

Bob, we had a terrific fire here last week and it practically destroyed everything that I owned. Battalion Headquarters, the place where I spend most of my day was burned to the ground. I used to keep all of my letters and all other sorts of stuff in my desk: they are all just memories now. I have been trying to think of all the people to whom I owe letters. What a job!

There's not much more I can say now, so I'll sign off. Keep those Hounds coming.

Sincerely, as always,
Corp. Edward B. Hart, Jr., ex. '45.

New Era For The Greyhound

With the appointment of a new Editor-in-Chief for THE GREYHOUND, a policy, both new and old, is instituted.

During its prewar days, THE GREYHOUND had a new Editor in the middle of the year. From January to January one Editor supervised the paper and then handed over the reins to an incoming Editor.

With the coming of World War II and the quick overturn of Editors, this policy was modified, of necessity, so that Editors were appointed in the beginning of a year to carry on till school closed.

But strangely enough, the standard did not fall. In fact, during those most trying years, THE GREYHOUND rose to its highest peak. For the first time in its history it won All-American Honors.

And why?

Precisely because of the love and devotion—and the hard work—of a few men. Tower of strength and guidance among those men was the Rev. Paul J. Gibbons, S. J., Moderator from 1942 till 1945. Father Gibbons and his loyal editors carried on when other schools were suspending publication—and Father Gibbons and his Editors triumphed. Just a few they were, working long hours into the morning, giving all their time and effort, these few delivered THE

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

By general consent the 1946 Alumni Banquet has been acclaimed the most successful in many years. In point of numbers, with a total attendance of 318, it far exceeded the gatherings of recent years, and may even be the largest Alumni Banquet in the history of the Association. Thanks to a capable chairman and an efficient committee, the arrangements were flawless. Once again "Ike" George, '01, has proven his abilities as a toastmaster. The guest speaker, Senator Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania, not only lived up to our expectations but far surpassed them in his most interesting address.

The Banquet was in a special way a welcome home to our Alumni service-men. Scattered here and there were the uniforms of the different branches of the service. More noticeable were the discharge pins on lapels. Classes that were unable to muster a corporal's guard in the past four years were present in real numbers. Particularly noticeable was the Class of 1936, celebrating its tenth anniversary with an attendance of 24 out of a graduating class of 45.

Looking back by decades, it was interesting to see the fine attendance of 12 from the class of '26. At the tables of the earlier classes were also seen three members of the class of '16 and also a representative of '06.

Memorial Chapel, Alumni Office

As the topic for his remarks at the Banquet, Father Bunn appropriately selected "The Memorial Chapel". In a stirring address Father Bunn developed the idea behind the proposed chapel and the significance of the edifice as a memorial to Loyola servicemen. Members of the Class of 1946 present at the banquet assisted in distributing to the gathered Alumni cards to be used in carrying out the plan for the erection of the chapel.

The Alumni Office is now open for business on the campus at Evergreen. The office is ready to serve the members of the association in every possible way. Members are earnestly requested to send us any Alumni information that they may have.

GREYHOUND from the throes of war.

Behind them they left a record and a tradition which is a challenge to all who succeed them. To them—and remember they were the ones who probed to the very heart of the paper—THE GREYHOUND was more than any ordinary paper. It was their first love; it deserved their best efforts; nothing short of that was enough. THE GREYHOUND was bigger than any one man; its success and improvement took precedence over any individual or personal feelings. More important than anything was a distinction these men made concerning the paper. THE GREYHOUND is a Student Publication. But it is, and must be, more than that. It is a paper published by the students, but for the students, the Alumni, and everyone concerned with Loyola College.

THE GREYHOUND is essentially Loyola—the whole Loyola. To the student is given the sacred task of editing the issues—issues which will truly mirror Loyola College with all its activities and affiliations.

And so, at this time, we thought it wise that the retiring Editor call to mind these fundamental purposes that his successors might learn to cherish the sacred traditions, and remembering them, carry on with more and better GREYHOUNDS.

Loyola Shaping Schedules For Spring Sports

Action In Tournament Consolation Game

Sid Roche appears to have the situation well in hand, as he snags a rebound from a host of Washington players. Al Barthelme lends a helping hand while George Bardelman looks on. But Loyola didn't get all the rebounds. Here is Gene Rook, of Washington College, taking the ball off the backboard as Al Barthelme makes a vain attempt to get the ball. —Courtesy News Post.

Loyola Dunks Sho'men, 50-43, Ends Conference At 13-3 Mark

Scoring a 50-43 victory over Washington College at Evergreen on Saturday, February 23, Loyola closed its season with a thirteen-and-three conference record, and wound up in second place in the final Mason-Dixon Conference standings.

Hounds Lead 6-0

Loyola started quickly as Roche took the opening tap-off and sank his first shot. Saltysiak then added two straight two-pointers to put the Hounds ahead 6-0 before the Sho'men finally netted a marker.

Close and fast play then followed for the remainder of the contest. At the rest period, the Hounds were in front 28 to 23.

Barthelme Defends Laurels

Al Barthelme successfully defended his league scoring laurels by sinking eleven points and staying ahead of his two pursuers, Jim and Gene Rook.

Bernie Saltysiak enjoyed one of his best nights on the court as he sank five field goals and one out of two free throws to tie Barthelme with eleven points.

Hopkins Quint Sinks Hounds

Loyola's perch atop the highest rung in the conference race lasted only four days, as Hopkins' Blue Jays invaded Evergreen to down the Greyhounds 46-37 on Wednesday night, February 20.

48 Personal Fouls

Exceptionally close officiating marked the game and a total of 48 personals were called. Holub, Jolson and Koeber, of the Jays, and Feeley, of the Hounds, fouled out during the second half.

Throughout the first canto, Hopkins enjoyed a slight lead and by intermission time was ahead 24-18.

Loyola Cuts Lead

With the second half only a minute old, the Green and Gray climbed to within two points of the Blue Jays. Bardelman caged a charity toss and Barthelme added a three point play.

Huether and Jolson, Jaymen, each bucketed eleven points.

Greyhounds Plan Track, Tennis, Lacrosse, Baseball, Golf Teams

In an endeavor to regain its former status in the athletic world, Loyola College is shaping up schedules in five varsity sports this Spring. The Green and Gray will field teams in Lacrosse, Tennis, Baseball, Golf and Track.

Schedules in these sports are still in the formative stage, though the Tennis, Lacrosse and Track events are well filled.

Five Lacrosse Games

Five Lacrosse games, with the possibility of a sixth, are on tap with clubs from Johns Hopkins, Pennsylvania State College, Swarthmore, University of Maryland and Duke University.

Penn State is the sole home game so far slated.

Six Tennis Matches

Tennis matches on a home and home basis are carded with Georgetown University, Johns Hopkins University and Western Maryland.

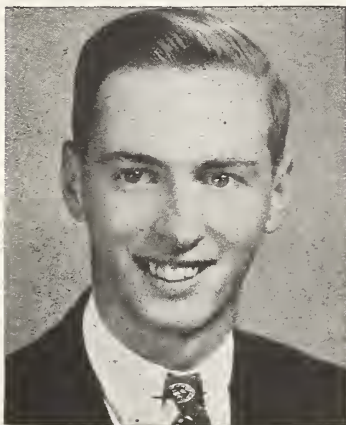

Loyola's cindermen will race Hopkins, Gallaudet and the University of Maryland, and will participate in the annual Mason-Dixon Conference Track Meet on May 18.

Three Golf Meets

A trio of Golf matches has been arranged with linksmen from the Naval Academy and Western Maryland, the latter school on a home and home basis.

Although only eight games are slated for the willow wielders, Lefty Reitz, Loyola baseball mentor, reports that letters are on their way to other schools and that after the service teams have been contacted, the schedule should be filled with ease.

Martin Resumes Coaching Duties For Greyhounds

Robert E. Martin

Robert E. Martin, '44, Loyola's youthful track mentor, has taken over the same duties of Track Coach that he held while a student at Loyola two years ago.

Bob, who piloted the Greyhound thin-clads during his senior year at Loyola, has sharpened his appetite for the cinders by coaching for another green and gray team, the Foresters of Forest Park High.

Three Meets Scheduled

Bob started tutoring his proteges for this year's harrier race on March 5. Several experienced track-men have turned out for practice sessions and Bob reports that he has high hopes of outclassing his three present opponents.

Directed Loyola Track Meet

At Forest Park High, Bob starred in the low hurdles, but upon matriculating at Loyola College, transferred his talents to coaching. His Forest Park pucksters are at present tied with Mt. St. Joseph's in the final standings of the High School race. For two years he has been in charge of the Annual Prep Track and Field Meet which Loyola College sponsors every spring.

Loyola Trips Terrors By Margin Of 45-43

Loyola's basketball quintet scored its twelfth conference win three weeks ago by downing a strong and revamped Western Maryland team 45-43 at Westminster.

Sid Roche, with ten points, led the Greyhound scorers.

Hot Shot Quint Sets Pace In Intramural Cage Loop

As the Intramural Basketball League continues on its merry and unpredictable pace, and as the aspiring hoopsters swing down the home stretch of the second league lap, scores for the eight most recent games are as follows: the Hot Shots panned Nugent's Nuggets, 43-19; Fay's Flagellates lost to the Sloppy Seniors, 19-11; the Second Raters beat the Fresh Fruits by the baseball score of 8-5; the Second Raters trimmed Knickerbocker Knockers, 39-10; the Hot Shots downed the Fruits, 23-13; Fresh Fruits upset the Hustlers, 11-9; the Hot Shots scalped the Second Raters by 31-13; and the Fresh Fruits pinned the Knickerbocker Knockers, 29-8.

Play-offs in the League, according to Commissioner Charlie Schmidt, will take place between the first four teams in the eight team loop, with the number one and two quints being seeded.

Teams will line up in the play-off series about the last week in March.

Barthelme Tops State Scorers

Al Barthelme

Playing his first year of collegiate basketball, Al Barthelme, Loyola freshman, captured the Maryland Collegiate scoring laurels as he amassed 299 points in 24 games to average 12.5 markers per contest.

Barthelme, before he entered Loyola, spent five years in the United States Coast Guard. He played on the Coast Guard Cutters basketball team for two seasons.

In addition to the state honors, Barthelme also nosed out Ray Love of American University—last year's conference high scorer—and Jim and Gene Rook of Washington College to garner the league scoring championship. He scored 197 points in 16 games, three better than Love scored last year in snaring the same laurels.

Tom Gisriel Suffers Injuries Of Shoulder

Exaggerated rumors about injuries sustained by Tom Gisriel, ex-'45, former Loyola College basketball star, who was injured in an automobile accident, were dispelled by his father recently.

Tom suffered a dislocation of the shoulder and a clavicular separation on February 5 when the car in which he and his fellow teammates of the Norfolk Naval Air Station quintet were driving to play Camp Bragg, was side-swiped off the road.

Mr. Gisriel has suggested that the fellows write to Tom. His address is: Wm. Thomas Gisriel, A. E. T. M., 3/c, U. S. Naval Hospital, Ward 2-C, N. O. B., Norfolk, Va.

Wild Bill Ziegler To Coach Hound Lacrosse Squad

If being an experienced lacrosse player (and an All American player at that) means being a good coach, then William (Wild Bill) Ziegler, of 2916A Dunway Road, Baltimore, should turn out to be one of the finest lacrosse coaches Loyola has ever seen.

Bill Ziegler, who is now working daily with his more than fifty varsity lacrosse hopefuls, was signed last January by Emil (Lefty) Reitz, Jr., Loyola's Director of Athletics, to coach the Greyhounds back to their pre-war prominence.

Lacrosse Coach

William (Wild Bill) Ziegler

All American At St. John's
Introduced to the Indian game in 1929 at City College, Bill played varsity lacrosse for the Collegians in his senior year.

At St. John's College, Annapolis, Bill ran with the varsity stickmen for three years. Each year he was not only given the distinction of being placed on All Maryland teams, but was voted to three All American tens.

On the side he played football and basketball, made All Maryland in football and captained the basketball and lacrosse teams in his senior year.

"Hi-li Lacrosse"

After coaching St. John's freshmen in 1933, he engaged in Box Lacrosse with the St. John's Lacrosse Club, composed only of St. John's graduates.

"In Box Lacrosse," explained Bill, "five men were on a team, you played within a walled court ... and the ball was always going."

Bill abandoned this "hi-li lacrosse" to join forces with the Baltimore Athletic Club's squad for two more years.

Here his playing ceased, but Bill has continued his lacrosse activities as a referee for High School and College games. He is a member of the Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association.

Running With The Hounds

by Charles Schmidt

In the six years that the Mason-Dixon Basketball Tournament has been held, only three teams have been able to come out first in the league play, and then successfully defend their laurels in the post season tournament. Loyola was the first team to do this in 1942, and American University did it twice in 1945 and again this year.

The Eagles, by taking the Tournament crown this year, became the only team in the history of the Mason-Dixon Conference to win both the conference championship and the tournament trophy two years in a row.

Although the Greyhounds fell below par in their last two encounters in the M-D Tournament, they never the less came through with a very successful season. In the conference race, they finished with a 13 and 3 record, only a few percentage points behind American University who completed the season with an 11 and 2 league mark.

In the state open race, Loyola again finished second. Closing the regular season with a 17 and 7 record, they followed only the Naval Academy which finished with a 13 and 3 mark.

Three of Loyola's players were among the first five in the state scoring leaders. Al Barthelme topped all of the scorers with 299 points, and Sid Roche and George Bardelman finished fourth and fifth with 202 and 168 points respectively. Barthelme was also the high scorer on the M-D conference race with 197 points.

Tomorrow afternoon at Hopkins, Loyola's matmen will perform in the Mason-Dixon Wrestling Tournament. A little vocal support will really help the boys to exert that extra ounce of energy that may mean the difference between victory and defeat for the grapplers. Give the boys your support. Go on over to see them wrestle. It's only down the road a piece. They have worked hard practicing for this meet, and deserve a lot of credit.

Best bet on the squad is Phil Lohrey, who wrestles in the unlimited class. To date, Phil has disposed of both of his challengers, and will be out to add a couple of more wins to his list.

The next best bet on the team is Franny Meagher, 155 lbs., who is a natural grappler. He is fast as a whip, strong as a bull, and alert as an air raid siren. In his initial outing this year, against Gallaudet, he performed in the 165 lb. class and was beaten in the second period. In his next match, however, against Hopkins, he pinned his man in 1 min. and 40 seconds.

Only other man on the present squad to have gained a win against Gallaudet or Hopkins is little Hector DiNardo, 128 lbs. Hector pinned his man in the Gallaudet match, and against Cromwell of Hopkins, who was prep champion last year, showed favorably in dropping a 4-1 decision.

Other notables on the squad are Johnny Mercaldo, 121 lbs., Otto Beyer, 145 lbs., Jack Herbert and Frank Griffin, 165 lbs., and George Buchness, 175 lbs.

As each new intramural sport is inaugurated, there is always a burst of interest and anxiety to compete on the part of the student body. Then as the schedule progresses, interest begins to fade. About the time for the play-offs there is hardly any interest left. The play-offs sometimes never materialize. Don't let that happen to the Intramural Basketball League this year. So far, the league has been moving along with alacrity, and if it continues that way, the play-offs will take place about the last week of March. Each of the members of the championship team will be awarded medals in recognition of his performances.

At this writing, there is a four way tie for first place in the league race between the Hot Shots, Nugent's Nuggets, Hustlers, and Sloppy Seniors. Each has a 2 and 1 mark. The Hot Shots lost to the Hustlers, the Sloppy Seniors lost to Nugent's Nuggets, Nugent's Nuggets lost to the Hot Shots, and the Hustlers lost to the Fresh Fruits. (Editor's Note: Now slow down, Charlie.) The ten top scorers are Simmons—36, Testa—35, Gaudreau—34, Schmidt—23, Hohman—23, Mudd—21, O'Connor—18, Hatch—18, Lochner—16, and Raab—16.

Terrors, Sho'men Bump Loyola In Tourney

Green And Gray Wrestlers Prep For M-D Tests

Five schools, three of which will have full teams, are priming for the ninth annual Mason-Dixon Wrestling Tournament tomorrow, March 9, at Johns Hopkins University. Bouts begin at 2:30.

Hopkins Club Strong

Powerhouse in the bone-bending business this year is Johns Hopkins. The Blue and White turned back both Gallaudet and Loyola, the only other colleges to sponsor teams in Conference wars in 1946.

Loyola is dark horse, having failed to decision either Hopkins or Gallaudet. Lone Greyhound to stay undefeated is heavyweight Phil Lohrey.

Participants Listed

In all, twenty-nine grunt 'n growlers will participate. They are: 121 lb. class: Kirkpatrick, Gallaudet; Mercaldo, Loyola; and Habliston, Hopkins.

128 lb. class: Snyder, Gallaudet; DiNardo, Loyola; and Cromwell, Hopkins.

136 lbs. class: Yates, Gallaudet; Schmidt, Loyola; and A. Brodsky, Hopkins.

145 lb. class: Kubis, Gallaudet; Beyer, Loyola; and Pugh, Hopkins.

155 lb. class: Lee, Gallaudet; Meagher, Loyola; Schechter, Hopkins; and Phillips, Western Maryland.

165 lb. class: Elkins, Gallaudet; Herbert, Loyola; and Brown, Hopkins.

175 lb. class: Collins, Gallaudet; Buchness, Loyola; Cohen, Hopkins; Resnick, Western Maryland; and Petro, American U.

Heavyweight: Hollrah, Gallaudet; Lohrey, Loyola; R. Brodsky, Hopkins; Anderson, Western Maryland; and Kidwell, American U.

Blue Jays Trip Grapplers 26-8

Scoring falls in four matches and gaining the decision in two more, Johns Hopkins University's matmen thwarted Loyola's second bid for victory in wrestling wars by a 26-8 count on Friday February 22 in the Homewood Gym.

At the end of the first four bouts, the Jays enjoyed an 18-2 lead. Habliston and Pugh, of Hopkins, pinned Mercaldo and Beyer in the second stanza while Jaymen Cromwell and Brodsky decided DiNardo and Schmidt, 4-1.

Schmidt, who went the distance with A. Brodsky, was a last minute substitution for the Hounds as Bill Shea, regular 136 pounder, abandoned the sport.

Lone fall for the Greyhounds was registered by Meagher in the 155 pound division.

Brown and Cohen, former Prep titlists, then threw Herbert and Buchness before Phil Lohrey captured Heavyweight honors by defeating R. Brodsky, 7-3.

121-Pound Class—Habliston, Johns Hopkins, threw Mercaldo, 4m. 45s.
128-Pound Class—Cromwell, Johns Hopkins, defeated DiNardo, 4 to 1.

136-Pound Class—A. Brodsky, Johns Hopkins, defeated Schmidt, 4 to 1.

145-Pound Class—Pugh, Johns Hopkins, threw Beyer, 3m. 16s.

155-Pound Class—Meagher, Loyola, threw Schechter, 1m. 47s.

165-Pound Class—Brown, Johns Hopkins, threw Herbert, 4m. 43s.

175-Pound Class—Cohen, Johns Hopkins, threw Buchness, 5m. 45s.

Heavyweight Class—Lohrey, Loyola, defeated R. Brodsky, 7 to 3.

Hounds Pick All Opponent Team

Following a custom inaugurated several years ago by a former Green and Gray quintet, the 1946 court squad, at the end of its regular season, went into a huddle and picked an all opponent team.

This year, however, the Hound hoopsters took into consideration all of their opponents and not merely those in the Mason-Dixon Conference. Two from American University, and one each from Georgetown, La Salle and Randolph Macon composed the first team.

FIRST TEAM

Love, f.—American University.

Walters, f.—La Salle College.

Lindeman, c.—American University.

Marandino, g.—Randolph Macon.

Engles, g.—Georgetown University.

Love and Walters were both unanimous choices on the all star aggregation, while Engles, Marandino and Lindeman were next.

Amassed 160 Points

Although scoring was not the only aspect taken into consideration, the five players combined amassed 160 points against the Greyhounds this year.

On paper, such a team seems unbeatable, even against any aggregation that other sections of the country might offer. The team might very well represent the East in the East-West charity game in Madison Square Garden on March 30.

Love, Walters Set Shots

Love and Walters are both dead shots from any where on the court, and need only a few seconds to aim their shots. Marandino is an expert ball handler, and would serve as the play maker on the team.

SECOND TEAM

McGuire, f.—La Salle College.

Kelly, f.—Scranton University.

Ballard, c.—Coast Guard Cutters.

Durkin, g.—Catholic University.

Holub, g.—Johns Hopkins.

American Five Retain Crown

After trimming Catholic University on the first night of the tournament, Loyola College dropped its next two tests to Western Maryland and Washington College to end up in the fourth slot in the Mason-Dixon Basketball Tournament. The Eagles of American University pulled a repeat performance of last year by again waltzing off with the tournament crown, at the expense of the Terrors, 50-39.

Hounds Best Cardinals

In downing the Cardinals, 52-44, in the best played game of the three night affair, the Greyhounds appeared to be a serious threat to the defending Eagles.

On the next two nights, however, the Hounds pulled an about face and bowed to Western Maryland 50-35, and to Washington College 43-36.

Saltysiak Gets Hot

Against Catholic University, the Green and Gray quint was sparked by big Bernie Saltysiak who tossed in nine field goals and three for four foul shots to total 21 points for the night.

Catholic University, at the end of the first half was leading the Hounds 25-24 and after five minutes of the second half were still ahead at 32-31. At this point, however, Saltysiak got hot and tied together eight straight markers to put the Hounds ahead to stay.

Hopkins Loses

The first night of the tournament also saw Western Maryland down Gallaudet 49-39, Hopkins bow to Washington 40-34, and American University sink the Yellow Jackets of Randolph Macon 55-39.

On the second night, the Terrors of Western Maryland beat the Hounds, and American University downed Washington 52-28.

In a battle for consolation third place laurels, the Hounds were again upset. Washington College, led by the Rook brothers, downed Loyola 43-36.

Barthelme Tops Tournament

Scorers

Al Barthelme, the conference high scorer, tallied 22 points for the night and brought his tournament scoring spree to 46.

American University captured its second straight tournament crown by besting Western Maryland.

318 Graduates Attend Largest Alumni Banquet

(With the largest Loyola Alumni banquet in the history of the Association, there should go, we feel, more than a passing mention. Highlights of that banquet, held on Thursday, February 21 in the main ballroom of the Belvedere, are given in the article following.)

Three hundred and eighteen Alumni of Loyola College finished their courses and sat back to hear Isaac S. George, '01, toastmaster, open the after-dinner ceremonies.

Alumni Honor Servicemen

Keynoting the Banquet was the welcoming home the Association gave its many members who had served their country.

To pay public tribute to these returning servicemen, Mr. George called upon all servicemen and veterans to rise. Approximately fifty Alumni stood to receive the applause of their fellow Alumni.

Pray For War Dead

After acknowledging the work of civilian Alumni who were "part of the war team", Mr. George asked those attending to stand in silence while the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.J., President of Loyola College, prayed for the repose of the souls of Loyola's twenty-eight sons who sacrificed their lives in the War.

Mr. George quoted "the familiar words of Macaulay" as tribute to these departed Alumni:

"To every man upon this earth,
 Death cometh soon or late,
 And how can man die better
 Than facing fearful odds
 For the ashes of his fathers
 And the temples of his Gods."

Seven Alumni Applauded

Introductions of seven outstanding Loyola alumni followed. Presented in turn were: the Hon. J. Bernard Wells, '04, "our faithful, efficient and effective State's Attorney"; the Hon. James J. Lindsay, '17, President of the Maryland Senate; the Hon. William J. McWilliams, Chief Judge of the 5th Judicial Circuit Court; Mr. Lingard I. Whiteford, '27, Chairman of the Banquet; Mr. Anselm Sodaro, '31, President of the Alumni Association, "the Little Corporal"; the Hon. Thomas D'Alessandro, "member of Congress and an expert on harbor improvements"; and the Hon. George Fallon, "one of the babies of the House of Representatives, but none the less most effective".

"Fill Spirit With Loyola"

Faculty Adviser of the Association, the Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S.J., then spoke on the contribution of Jesuits to the lives of Loyola students and Alumni and urged the Alumni to strengthen their ties with the College and "fill their spirit with Loyola".

In the absence of the Hon. Herbert R. O'Connor, '17, Maryland's Governor, Mr. Augustus Bourbon, '14, "pinch hitter and secretary for the Governor", tendered O'Connor's regrets that he was unable to attend what would have been his twenty-eighth consecutive banquet.

Chapel Drive Announced

Announcing the opening of the drive to construct Loyola's Memorial Chapel, Fr. Bunn, the next speaker, pointed out that he wanted the Chapel "to be erected by every member of the Association, not by one man". He said that this was "our job" and he asked that each man so interest himself in the Chapel that through his individual efforts and work among his friends and associates, he would try personally to account for one thousand dollars.

United States And Atom

As guest speaker, the Hon. Francis J. Myers, State Senator from Pennsylvania, contrasted the mighty power of the United States with "the smallest thing in the world—the atom". He emphasized that this country should be generous in its cooperation and charity to other nations of the world, lest the fearful consequences of atomic warfare obliterate that power and "our beloved United States" as well.
